INCREASING REVIEWS ON

ZOMATO

THE PROBLEM STATEMENT

The main problem faced by the user is that they have no incentive to write a review hence they slack off, The user segment we analyse is 18-30 year olds living in Tier 1&2 cities

Lack of Ease for writing

Less Reminders

Tough Navigation

No Incentive

Possible Solutions

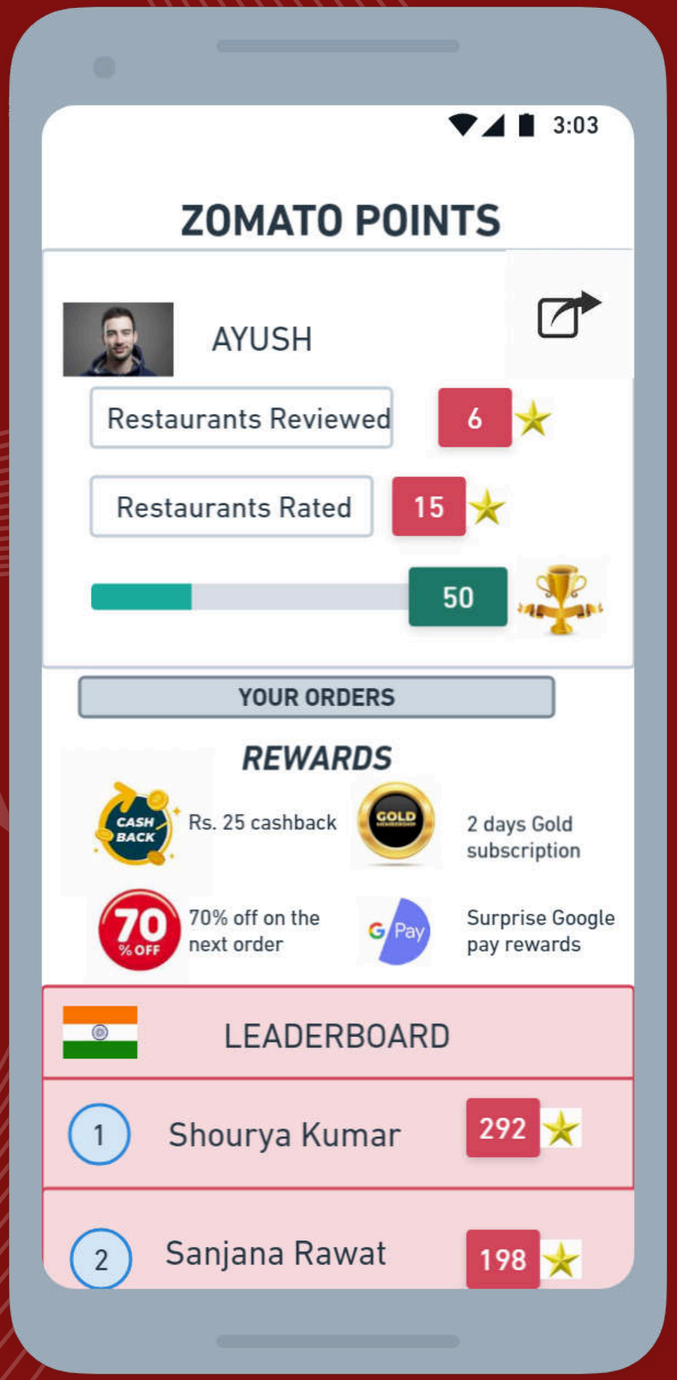

Zomato points: Every time a user rates an order, add points which eventually sums up to a give a reward to the user.

Adding Review templates and auto-filling to make it less time consuming.

Constant pop-ups and push notifications to remind about adding reviews .

Updating UX and making it easily navigable

Reward system for delivery person depending on who has more ratings as, them being persistent pushes the customer to rate

ZOMATO POINTS

- Zomato Points is a section in the app through which users can track their progress in order to get a reward for adding Reviews.
- Upon completion of Milestones like putting reviews for 50,100,200 restaurants, users will stand a chance to win rewards offered by Zomato and its partners.
- Rewards include discount on next orders, cashback on an order, limited free Zomato Gold Subscription, Google pay rewards and many more!
- There is also a leaderboard for maintaining a healthy competition between the users by which they can track where they stand in terms of adding number of reviews
- Users can also share their progress on social media apps and encourage their friends to post reviews .
